

Corporate Social Responsibility

Eloro's commitment to our values is reflected through social work and community inclusion. At Eloro Resources, we are committed to protect the communities impacted by our labours through Social and Environmental Sustainability Awareness Programs, in the hopes that our voluntary actions improve the living conditions of the local communities.

Eloro is fully aware that our on-going projects propose an effect on our people, the environment, and the community. It is for that very reason, that we firmly believe in protecting the health, safety and well-being of the Eloro family and the local communities involved, as we strive to provide them with the necessary needs they deserve.

❖ We firmly believe in protecting the health, safety and well-being of the Eloro family and the local communities involved

Members of the community attend environmental talk

❖ Our Community Awareness

Our CSR (Corporate Social Responsibility) staff has implemented a face-to-face approach by paying home visits to the opinion leaders of the community in order to raise awareness about Eloro's projects in a more personal manner.

Knitting Workshops

Knitting workshop

❖ The workshops have been a success among the women of Huandoval and Pallasca as they have shown great interest in participating and learning

Within the strategy of social involvement, Eloro's CSR staff has been working with groups of women in the community to implement handicrafts and weaving related activities.

These knitting workshops are available to two groups of women: Group #1 composed of seven ladies, and Group #2 composed of thirteen ladies. The workshops have been a success among the women of Huandoval and Pallasca as they have shown great interest in participating and learning.

This gives us the motivation to keep introducing workshops that will benefit the communities around the La Victoria project.

In addition to the knitting workshops, environmental talks have been held with the participants, as it is very important to educate the community on the impacts mining activities may cause to the environment.

Arts and crafts in Pallasca

Pencil holder made by Pallasca woman

Knitting workshop

Installation of Avocado Saplings

Offering of avocado saplings to the representative of the education centre at Culcubamba

❖ The seedlings were donated by Eoro and the gratitude showed by the population made the contribution a complete success

60 avocado plants were planted outside the educational institution of Culcubamba. This was possible thanks to the Director and Parental Board of the institution. Teachers, parents, students and staff of Eoro Peru participated in the installation of the plantation. The seedlings were donated by Eoro and the gratitude showed by the population made the contribution a complete success.

Eoro team

❖ Tumi Symbol of Peru

This is Tumi. Tumis are associated with the Peruvian culture Chimú. Chimú and the Incas were descendants of the Sun God, Inti, who was worshiped year round. Nowadays, the Tumi is a symbol of good luck and a national symbol that is widely known.

Avocado plants

Student carrying avocado sapling

Environmental and Community Involvement

Cleaning of the streets in Pallasca

A support program for the betterment of the community has been developed both in Pallasca and Huandoval. One of the activities that took place recently was the cleaning of the streets in the town. Women from both locations participated in the socially conscious event.

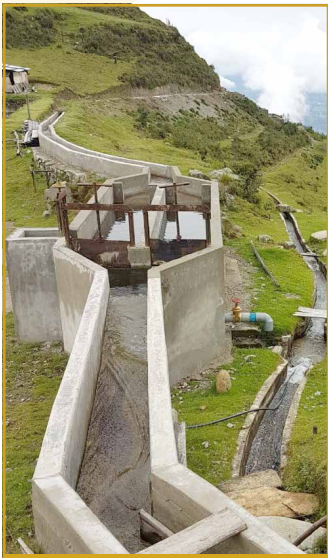

Through an agreement with the leaders of the Pallasca community, we have contributed with the upkeep of the forest greenhouse. Our task consists of bagging and selecting pine seedlings. This was done alongside 5 women who offered to participate in the activity. In Pallasca, these tasks are carried out in a strategic way; in order to achieve a better understanding between the community and the company.

❖ In Pallasca our tasks are carried out in a strategic way, in order to achieve a better understanding between the community and the company

Women of the Pallasca community working at the greenhouse

The Trout Farm

Trout farm infrastructure

Trout farm in Pallasca

An unfinished infrastructure that holds a capacity of 30 thousand trout but due to its poor management only had 3 thousand, was reason enough for Eloro to want to contribute. The accompanying pictures showcase the team delivering trout food, materials and accessories for the fish farm in Pallasca.

Delivery of materials for the trout farm